Henry Lovin, who has been looking after his interests in California, returned home Wednesday morning.

Sam Rhea, who has been foreman at the Tennessee mine for the past year, was a visitor in Kingman this week.

Toney Walter and George W. Miller, accompanied by their families are taking in the big time at Prescott this week. They expect to make the run to the Grand Canyon in their cars.

Allen E. Ware returned the first of the week from a six weeks outing in the mountains and plains of northern California and Nevada. He reports that he had the time of his life hunting and fishing.

N. J. Churchill, superintendent of the Tennessee mine, at Chulaville, accompanied by his wife and child, were Kingman visitors yesterday. Mr. Churchill has been keeping close to the work at the Tennessee mine and has brought it to a high state of development.

C. L. Davidson and son Throck returned from the Grand Canyon yesterday evening and will remain here a month or more looking after mining interests. The looking up of the big mill at Copperville will interest them considerably, aside from their other mining interests.

Carl Walters, who has been acting as cashier of the Citizens Bank during the absence of A. J. McKelvey, departed to his home in Flagstaff. While in Kingman he made a number of friends that will be pleased to have him permanently stationed here as Mr. McKelvey's assistant.

The Misses Veda and Zoa Watkins departed last Monday night to Los Angeles, from which they will go to Panama and other southern points, reaching New York within the month and crossing overland to Kingman. The trip is designed to take in all the scenic and interesting places along the Panama railroad and Atlantic seaboard.

The board of Supervisors of San Bernardino county have changed the title of that good old song from "When the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold", to "When the Sands of the Desert Grow Wet", as they have refused licenses to every saloon in the desert section, with exception of Needles and in the hottest part of the summer, too.

Beginning Monday the fourteenth of this month, the board of equalization will hear complaints of taxpayers valuations have been raised by the board at its June meeting. Over 300,000$ has been added to the valuations of county property by the board and it is probable that the greater part of this amount will be allowed be allowed to stand.

Jack Cornelius, a well known miner of the Yucca country, suffered a broken leg in a friendly scuffle with Jack Pettes, at Yucca, a few days ago. He was taken to Kingman and is under the care of the surgeon. The boys set the limb as soon after the accident as possible and the doctor reported that they had done a good job.

Assistant State Engineer Parker came up from Topock a few days ago attend to matters connected with the building of the state highway east from that point. He reports torrid weather in that place, but that work is progressing on the road as well as could be expected. The grade from the bridge to the mesa is well under way and when that is completed travel can be diverted over that road.

Kingman Elks Celebrate and Entertain.

No arrangements had been made this year to celebrate the Fourth of July as is usually done in Kingman, but at the eleventh hour a challenge to play a game of base ball was sent from Needles by the members of Kingman Lodge No. 468, B. P. O. Elks, who reside in that city of railroad shops, and the gauntlet thrown down could not be overlooked by the members who live in Kingman and the result was a celebration gotten up in an impromptu manner, but one that equaled many that were premeditated and were the result of much labor and expense.

Little advertising was done, but many visitors heard that the local lodge of Elks had the celebration in hand and from all over the county came representative citizens, while train No. 10, which arrived at eleven o'clock on the morning of the Fourth, brought two car loads of enthusiastic pleasure seekers from Needles, as well as the Elks nine that was to give the Kingman boys their Waterloo.

First in order came the parade of the two clubs, accompanied by many members of the lodge and the order. This parade was certainly unique. The suits of the Needles club was a combination of purple and white that would have made a circus clown envious, with B. P. O. E. emblazoned across their many breasts. On their noble domes rested cute little hats lettered with strange mottoes, such as "I'm the Guy," and "Everybody's Doin' it." They were a fine looking lot of ball players and no wonder the Kingman team lost heart when they saw them.

The Kingman boys were not so elaborately garbed, but certainly attracted attention. Fluffy tarleton skirts encircled their robust forms, while their somewhat rudy faces peered out from under modest sun-bonnets such as our little sister used to wear. Many comments were passed on their shapely, white stockinged calves. Appreciating the stalwart appearance of the Needles team and knowing that hard work was before them, a large number of substitutes had been provided.

Little Charlie Herndon was mascot. Of course he wore the club suit. Jimmy Russell, sometimes called the "Judge", and cute little "Dad" Parsons, carried the trophy which was to go to the winning team. This was a bat and ball of huge proportions.

As the parade started from the Elks hall on the line of march for the ball grounds, a surprise was afforded by the sudden appearance of a red cross relief corps, consisting of Mrs. Thos. Devine, Mrs. Mert Wagner, Mrs. Joe Gideon and Mrs. Jack Lane, proceeded by Dr. June Lambert. Upon a stretcher was the remains of the sheriff of county who was for this day out of commission. Upon a prancing charger came the field marshal of the day, Mrs. Ed. Carrow, belted and spurred and carrying a wicked-looking gun which was enough to shed terror in the heart of any wrong doer or trouble maker. Her able assistants were two formidable policemen, Mrs. J. R. Russell representing Jack Lane and Mrs. J. C. Potts, impersonating Asa Harris. Frequent arrests were made and good order maintained during the day by these fearless officers. Woe be it to the luckless fellow who dared to make a rough house on the grounds. He was immediately clubbed and lead away with the "darbies" on.

A Fourth of July without a band would be no Fourth at all, so the Hoffman Quintette Band volunteered to furnish music and all will attest that the music would do credit to a much larger organization, although there were only five horns and the drums. The players were F. L. Hunt, L. M. Teale, F. P. Andrews, C. L. Hoffman, Fred Lydy and a snare drummer imported from Yucca, whose name we could not learn.

First on the program came a match game between the Needles and Kingman basket ball teams. Upon a former occasion the Needles visitors had carried away the honors and the Kingman team was on its mettle and the result was a score in favor of the home girls, seven to five. The Needles team was composed of the following young ladies: Edna Sheppard, Irene Elkins, Blanche Lewis, Winnie Greaney and Evelyn Stave. On the opposing Kingman team were: Ethel Grizzell, Zetta

Meloy, Mable Grizzell, Florence St. Charles, Pearl Boner and Lodema Cook, playing in the first half and Mattie and May Wilkins in the second.

The Needles boys who twirled the sphere so successfully were Downs, McIntosh, Ripple, Brown, Smith, Murray, Rhyon, Stubby Haskins and Croston, while their Kingman opponents were Gruninger, Ira George, Estel, Williams, Duncan, Force, Mur, Hamilton, Shaw, Wheelock and Withers. They were a bunch of old time ball players and the crowded bleachers looked for a scientific game and they got it. Stevie Hasken was not in his usual form and couldn't get to Wagners curves and fanned the wind. Ira George found out that he was not in his old time form and got fined for kicking the ball to second. Ray Wheelock did some lofty tumbling while catching a fly in the outfield. Never a ball got by Mickey Force while playing short, and Estel was a first base man not to be sneezed at. But McIntosh and Downs were a well-supported battery and at the end of the second inning Kingman went down to defeat and the magnificent bat and ball will, for a term, rest in the trophy room of the Needles boys, or until Kingman can practice up and play a return game and bring the coveted prize back home.

As a fitting ending of the sports at the grand stand the regular Needles ball team and the Kingman champions met for another try-out, which resulted in another victory for the Kingman boys. The two clubs were hardly up to their usual form, Needles making eleven errors, while Kingman came in close second with ten. The score at the end of the ninth was nine to five.

For a few hours the visitors enlivened the streets with their presence, many visiting the new Elks club rooms, until the ball room on the first floor was opened at nine o'clock p. m. An orchestra consisting of five pieces tempted the dancers and for many hours the festivities continued, until in the early hours of the morning the Needles special took back to that enterprising city a tired but happy crowd.

Sam Withers has returned from a four weeks trip to the old home in Alabama, only returning in time to take part in the discussion of tax raises that will be before the board of equalization this month. He reports having had an excellent time. The trip back from the south was made through Utah to San Francisco and south to Los Angeles, thence home.

If a substitute is offered you for Foley Kidney Pills, it means a cheaper medicine is pressed upon you for the dealer's profit, not for yours. Foley Kidney Pills may cost the dealer more than a cheap substitute, but they give better results than any other kidney and bladder medicine. A. J. Walsh, Sheffield, Calif., writes: "Rush them to me. I am badly done up with rheumatism, and Foley Kidney Pills are the only thing that will cure me." H. H. Watkins, Druggist.

Perfect Fitting Pumps for Women

Most important in the selection of pumps is the question of fit. A pump that gaps at the sides is never correct; a pump that binds at toe or heel is never comfortable.

Utz & Dunn Co. pumps for women are made on the most approved lines. Will not gap or bind and positively will not slip at the heel. This is a feature which will appeal to all wearers of pumps.

We have them in all leathers and in fabrics.
